

May 17, 2007

Dear Sir/Madam:

The proposed merger between XM Satellite Radio Holdings, Inc. and Sirius Satellite Radio, Inc. must be denied. The operators of the above companies have no interest in serving their customers.

Recently the management of XM Satellite Radio suspended two on air talents, who are on an uncensored channel, because they mentioned an issue they were told not to mention. Uncensored means not examined, expurgated, or given a rating for inclusion of improper or inappropriate material.

The following is taken directly from XM radio web site.

“XM Radio Online gives you unlimited access to over 80 channels of amazing programming, including:

- * Over 70 commercial-free music channels
- * XM's exclusive music series Artist Confidential™ and Then...Again...Live!™
- * Online-exclusive channels, including World Zone®, XM Music Lab® and The Flow®
- * The Bob Edwards Show, from XM's Public Radio channel
- * Uncensored comedy including the outrageous, uninhibited talk duo, Opie & Anthony
- * AOL Radio channels featuring top 20 from Adult Contemporary, Country, Urban, Hip Hop and more (AOL Radio channels are only available to XM Satellite Radio customers)

XM Radio Online is also available on XM + Napster, where you can listen to all your favorite XM Radio Online channels, and purchase from Napster's 1.5 Million track music library.”

Please note the bolded, underlined and italicized line. You must agree that the statement is a complete falsification. If XM management can blatantly promote such dishonestly, while they are in so called competition with Sirius Satellite Radio, what will they do when there is a monopoly?

The consumers of satellite radio pay for specific services. One such service is uncensored, adult oriented talk. Please do not allow the merging of these two companies in order to protect us, the consumers, from fraud.

Sincerely Yours
Rambod Poursalimi